

Love is the Key

(To Heal Our Troubled Heart)

Don Gnecco

Everybody has their trials, tribulations, too.
Everyone has stories of the things they do.
Each of us has challenges, when it all feels new,
When we start to wonder:
Who am I? What am I to do?

So, Love is the key to heal our troubled heart.
With Love in our heart, we don't have to feel alone.

Everybody has some days when they're feeling sad,
When the losses pile up, when it all feels bad.
Each of us has challenges, disagreements, too.
When we start to wonder:
Who am I? What am I to do?

Well, Love is the key to heal our troubled heart.
With Love in our heart, we don't have to feel alone.

Modulation

Everybody has some times when the world seems bleak,
When we're lost and lonely, when we're feeling weak.
Each of us has challenges, times we cannot speak.
When we start to wonder:
Who am I? What am I to do?

So, Love is the key to heal our troubled heart.
With Love in our heart, we don't have to feel alone.
But everyone will have some days when it all feels right.
